School IPM Focus - Back to School
By: Mike Bentley

With summer break coming to a close it’s time to open schools and classrooms for the new school year. A daunting list of tasks can create a rushed work environment that is more conducive to accidents and inefficiency. Receiving regular safety training can minimize the likelihood of accidents and can be an important part of keeping our school environment safe and healthy. To promote upcoming training opportunities, this month’s newsletter will highlight the Florida School Plant Management Association’s (FSPMA) 2014 annual conference. Also, the last PMU GHP Foundations course for 2014 will be held Oct 1-3. This course is a must have for school PMPs! Avoid having your kitchens closed because of rodent and cockroaches. Learn how to monitor the effectiveness of your vendor. See “Upcoming Training Opportunities.”

Finally, help teachers maintain a pest-free learning environment by telling them where they can report pest problems and refer them to our Interior Inspection: Classrooms and Offices newsletter. And remember, a HEPA vacuum is your friend. Vacuuming up live and dead pests takes care of the problem immediately!

FSPMA’s 2014 Annual Conference
The FSPMA is dedicated to the exchange of information and ideas among school districts, community colleges and universities for the purpose of improving school plant management, maintenance and care through the promotion of acceptable policies, standards and practices; and to promote the professional advancement of school plant management personnel.

The 2014 Annual Conference will be held on September 8-11th in Orlando, FL. This year’s conference will include training seminars on topics that include: integrated pest management, fixing your building envelope, safety and personal protection equipment, and much more! For a full list of training seminars, check out the 2014 conference agenda here.

Faith will be speaking on Monday, Sept 8, covering two topics and she would love to see you!

1. “Contracting an IPM Service with an Outside Vendor”: Learn about the components of an IPM program and what to look for in a successful program as well as one that is about to fail using specific pest examples.

2. “Fix the Building Envelope”: Pest exclusion success stories and the reasons why this one simple fix can decrease your workload. CEUs will be available.

Fix the Building Envelope - Door Sweeps

At the beginning of this year we asked you to make a resolution to fix door sweeps on the outer building doors as an effort toward sustainable IPM in schools. Fixing door sweeps and ensuring that windows and doors close properly (i.e., no gaps) will not only exclude pests, but improve energy efficiency and maybe improve indoor air quality by preventing moisture from accumulating. Excess moisture can lead to mold.

With the 2014-2015 school year approaching, it is a good time to make the commitment to fixing door sweeps as a more sustainable method of pest prevention. If you have a door-sweep success story you want to share, please let us know (foi@ufl.edu) so we can highlight your commitment!

We Need Your Ticks!

If you have more than 5 raisin-size, blood-fed female brown dog ticks, (Rhipicephalus sanguineus) we want them!

If you have ticks for us, please contact Dr. Phillip E. Kaufman tel. (352) 273-3975 pkaufman@ufl.edu

Or Lois Wood (lawood@ufl.edu, 352-273-3981) for more information.
